

Bull Controlling Country

Rules:

- 1) Each bull should have only one controlling country
  - a. When a bull has shared ownership, owners need to agree in which country to assign control to
  - b. The Interbull Centre will try to resolve the conflicts by contacting data providers and asking for a solution before a deadline
  - c. If owners do not resolve conflicts, the regular publication policy applies
- 2) Bulls that have been previously held the status “Yes” for GMACE publication cannot be posteriorly assigned a “No” for GMACE publication.
- 3) If available, controlling countries should supply the NAAB stud number of the bull controller to be used as additional criteria to resolve conflicts.
